The Constitution Callout

by: J. Greenwood, Adapted by E. Thaddeus

Our government is organized to be beneficial.
Can you say Legislative, Executive and Judicial?
Everyone listen: we're here to say,
The reasons why our government works this way.

Our founding fathers, the future they saw,
And wrote the Constitution, our land's highest law,
It's a balance of power so no one person,
Can rule our lives or seize our land.

It separates the government into three parts:
With Congress, President, and Supreme Court.

Congress makes the laws for our country,
Secures equal rights for you and me.

The President sees laws are carried out,
That people follow them without a doubt.

Interpreting the law is the Supreme Court's affair,
Makes sure the laws are constitutional and fair.

Our government is organized to be beneficial.
Can you say Legislative, Executive and Judicial?
Everyone listen: we're here to say,
The reasons why our government works this way!
